Reservation Already Made For Peace River Exhibition At Vancouver Coming Summer

Enthusiastic Support Pledged By Executive G. P. Board of Trade At Meeting Wednesday Night—Wheat King Heartily Behind Exhibit—Hog Grading, Stock Train Service, Highway And Other Matters Dealt With

The executive of the Board of Trade at a meeting held Wednesday night voted $500, and pledged itself up to $5000 to the necessary, towards the Peace River exhibition stand which is to come to Vancouver Golden Jubilee celebration.

President P. J. Teeley, who was in the chair, informed the meeting that a reservation had been made and all that was necessary now was the cooperation of various boards of trade, which organizations had been canvassed by L. Howard, president of the Peace River Boards of Trade Association, to make the exhibit an outstanding success.

Five more trophy cups have been donated for the Grande Prairie Inspectorate Athletic Meet to be held on Saturday, June 12, at the Siskiwit Lake School District—For Class B girls' running broad jump.

MacLennan School District—For Class C boys' relay race.

These five trophies bring the total number of awards for individual events to twelve.

Points To Be Noted

Would schools intending to enter the meet, please note the following points:

(1) Each school must bring its own softball and basketball equipment.

(2) Relays will be run on their own poles.

(3) Relays will be run back and forth, and regulation-size sticks will be supplied for each team.

(4) Only one-room rural schools are eligible to compete for the Rural Schools shield.

(5) Teachers are reminded that entries for the meet must be in by Wednesday, May 12.

(6) Schools not receiving entry forms before the middle of May, may receive copies on application to the Central Committee.

Tennis Club Open Promising Season With Tournament

The Grande Prairie Tennis Club will start off the season with a general tournament towards the end of next month, and will be open to prospective members, and any others generally interested.

Those wishing to take part are requested to mail their entries to the secretary, Miss Dorothy Guthrie, before Thursday, May 14 so that the draw may be made on Friday, the last week's paper. Draws will also be posted at the club's courts at that time.

The Peace River Tennis Shield, emblematic of the championship of Peace River, is held by the local club, the president of which, Dennis Law, considers that the club is in a great position to roll in soon from district clubs, who would seek to annex the prized trophy.

The club's courts have been the scene of much activity during the past few weeks, as a large number of tennis enthusiasts took advantage of the good weather to play a few matches on both courts, which are now in first-class shape.

From the many enquiries received, the secretary anticipates a large membership, which she believes will more than offset vacancies caused by residence changes of some former members.

Canadian Utilities Spending $1,500.00 On Line In G. P.

Approximately $1,500 will be spent on increasing wire sizes in the distribution system of the Canadian Utilities Limited in Grande Prairie.

The above statement was made to The Tribune by Mr. E. D. McKinnon, in charge of the local unit. He explained that the object of the alterations is to take care of any increase of load and provide better regulation.

Work on the lines started Wednesday morning.

DUNLOP TO SHIP ANOTHER CAR OF HORSES TO MONTREAL

Charlie Dunlop will ship another carload of horses to Montreal on Saturday.

The load will include a four-year-old Morgan colt, which weighs between 1700 and 1800 pounds. This outstanding animal was raised on the farm of Mr. J. D. McKinnon of Seven Islands.

All the other horses are of a good general purpose type.

Dunlop stated to The Tribune recently that the demand for horses is still good.

Party of Three Had Narrow Escape From Drowning In Simonette River On Friday

Exempt Coal Oil For Illuminating Purposes

EDMONTON, May 6—Coal oil for illuminating purposes is to be exempt from the amended provisions of the Coal Oil Tax Act, probably on June 20, said through registered retail merchants only.

Mr. C. E. Manning, Minister of Finance, said yesterday that coal oil and passengers were carried under the log and did not come to the surface for some distance.

By almost a miracle a triple drowning in the Simonette River was averted on Friday last.

"Slim" Knox and "Swede" Carlson and his wife, living east of the Smoky, were returning from a trap line on a raft with a quantity of fur.

The river was high and the current rapid. When passing through a cut bank, where the water was about 20 and 30 feet deep, the raft struck a submerged rock which was sticking out from the bank and was overturned.

Knox and Carlson freed the raft and wife to save her from certain death. The couple were swift swimmers and passengers were carried under the log and did not come to the surface for some distance.

It was a narrow escape for the party.

Timely Hints From the Beaverlodge Sub-Station

By W. D. Abright
It is a pleasure as well as a duty to serve!

Nature may supply the poetry (?) this week.

Paint improves appearances and preserves wood. We use too little of it in Canada.

Milk fever is engendered by drawing all the milk from the udder of a freshly calved cow. The calf takes a little off each time. This is Dame Nature's timely hint.

There is a deal of satisfaction in weighing the milk of the good cows, but sometimes it is just as profitable to weigh and record that of the poor ones. It need not be continued so long.

In the large hall dug for the setting of a new church, the floor was laid bare, but any carpet that may be tanned around it makes the pile plant grow and does not seem to taint the flavor of the pines.

For all the winter interests, plus bareness, the spring during an early cold snap April 29th brings in summerfall in a certain way. A thin layer of snow remains while there was encountered at 30 inches. There was plenty of moisture all the way down.

Between three and four inches is a depth at which to plant the main crop of potatoes. Tubers covered with chaff, however, are tardily in cool seasons. Very shallow planting gives the quickest start but tends to induce such a high setting of the tubers that it is difficult to avoid. A few rows for early use may be planted an inch deep.

While favoring this one-way disk as an excellent implement in a type of agriculture designed to keep worms in check, Prof. Kenneth M. King of Saskatchewan believes that on dry land, where the tillage should be done by the tiller, combined with a press drill or a standard harrow with press roller and usually as a separate process rather than immediately after the one-way disking.

Winter rye on summerfall grows so rank in favorable seasons that it is almost certain to lodge, making the task of harvesting and threshing which can be subdivided by cross drilling the winter rye on a stand of spring grain about a month after the spring grain has been sown. Thus "nursed." (?)

The rye establishes a stand and gives a fair crop in the following year. If the rye is sown in the fall, it would grow too strongly, choking down the winter to quite an extent yet failing to produce a stand. Some time it would head out and much would joint in the first season. When that occurs the chaff will be more abundant and the rye will be matted to form a nurse crop with it. It would delay the obtaining of a strong stand of grass. Puff grass, however, can be sown again without any other grass or without a legume. Better results would be obtained if the rye could afford to be in some sweet clover or alfalfa, but these seeds are not easy to obtain locally this year. A very good mixture would consist of rye plus ten of sweet clover.

An Infection Among Horses

But cows seem to have been widely epidemic among horses this late winter and spring. Some cases suggest that the patients must feel as persons who have been bitten by a horse, though no lameness, difficulty in swallowing, discharge of catarrhal mucus from mouth and nostrils are prominent symptoms. A swelling between the jaws is noticed, especially when it can be seen separating the nostrils with the mouth open. The writer has also made some use of the old simple remedy for colic, distemper, etc., hypnotophite of zinc phosphate, given in small doses at a time. Steaming the nostrils with the vapor hot water to which eucalyptus has been added seems to loosen the nasal secretions and give relief.

While awaiting advice of the official veterinarian we venture to suggest that nursing care and attention to the animal's needs are probably more beneficial as well as safer than drugs.

Re-Seeding a Run-Out Pasture

Ten acres pasture has been seeded with winter rye and is now green. I planned to sow new home grass this summer.

1. Would it be advisable to mix with rye and oats? How much?

2. Is there any other mixture more suitable?

3. I would like to be able to pasture it this fall. Would this hurt the grass? (Mrs. K. D. La Glace, Alta.)

Ans.: 1 and 2. This field probably needs a rest period during which moisture and soluble plant food may be absorbed. It would be better to answer fairly well to break in late May, work down and sow bromegrass in it. Under the circumstances it would be better to wait to sown a nurse crop with it. It would delay the obtaining of a strong stand of grass. Puff grass, however, can be sown again without any other grass or without a legume. Better results would be obtained if the rye could afford to be in some sweet clover or alfalfa, but these seeds are not easy to obtain locally this year. A very good mixture would consist of rye plus ten of sweet clover.

3. We often pasture new seedings during the first summer in order to get them to take hold. In this case we are very particular to take the stock off by about the tenth of August so as to leave time for the new grass to get a good start.

Mr. and Mrs. McFadden moved down from St. George Ranch and are living the farm. Mrs. F. McArthur.

Mrs. Charteris arrived from New Year to her husband here, where they will reside on their farm. Mr. and Mrs. Charteris were among the first to move into the new town and have spent several years at different places outside.

We were very sorry to hear that Mr. Birger Bolin had to undergo an operation for appendicitis, but hope for him the speediest recovery possible.

Mrs. Dutouw spent last weekend with Mrs. Bagshaw at Flin's home.

Mr. Bull has spent several weeks in his homestead in Tipup lately, as part of the Lethbridge district to establish his farm in the high land. To what extent soil fertility enters into the success of a farm is not the predominant factor and, even if were, liming would be pretty costly treatment.

In our office is a mimeograph for distribution giving certain scientific information about the weed.

One would expect that thorough summer-fallowing for sufficient length of time would exhaust the vitality of the roots, but it might take one or two years to do this. The writer (who we have latterly been experiencing), and still this would prevent re-infestation by the same species. At any rate, the fallow might actually favor the weed by accumulating the abundant soil-moisture reserve which it seems to like. Accounts of personal experience would be welcomed.

Winter Rye as a Cleaning Crop

Highly fall rye should one sow per acre?

I intend to sow it this spring on land that I would otherwise summer-fallow. I have been advised to plow down and manure it late this fall. I have been told by a man who has tried out that this is a good way to go, and I have done it and obtain a crop of rye the second year. Have you found this method a success?—R. G. Peacock, Alta.

Ans.: I ordinarily sow five or six pecks of good viable seed, the larger quantity if the seeding is done on the later side.

If sown thickly enough, handled properly and not winter-killed, the rye will choke down most weeds present, even those which are not annuals. The question is whether there may not be some seeds left to volunteer later on. In certain of our experiments we have been able to nurse a crop for seedling down to mixtures of grasses and clovers. The seedling has been made at intervals from mid-June to the first of July and the paddocks have been pastured closely to keep any weeds eaten off so far as possible. This is the only time the system can be used. The May seeding has usually wintered through, although a June sowing is safer for the first year. I believe that the danger in the first season is to have it winter-kill to some extent. As a nurse crop the winter rye has not been any too successful, but the experiment has been discontinued.

If the proposed plan is tried, we suggest a preliminary drilling during the summer to get rid of the seedling of the rye deferred until June or even, perhaps, until the first of July; then pasture close until, say the tenth of August, when the stock being then taken off to allow the rye to form a good autumn growth. If pasture is not needed, it may fail to winter-kill in August. The only drawback to this system is that the rye would probably grow too rank and choke down the grasses. This difficulty could be avoided by using the second year's crop for pasture, for hay or for early pasture followed by the removal of a crop of winter rye.

Hence cheerio for a speedy spring and to drive the blues away.

Another "League of Nations" Scout Troop

A thriving Boy Scout troop at the Canadian Academy, Kyoto, Japan, counts as members boys from Canada, United States, England, Austria, Guatemala, Holland, Spain, Denmark, France, Italy, Finland, and a Jewish boy exiled from Germany.

The study also includes a review of provincial and municipal relationships and a detailed examination of public debts and obligations. It is felt that such an investigation is of direct interest to the farmer, who is the backbone of the community and indirectly of value to those in other provinces. The facts included in the bulletin are not designed for securing the co-operation of the public, but rather as being drawn from representative municipalities, with the thought in this way a more detailed analysis of the situation can be obtained. The Dominion Department of Agriculture, because of its responsibility to farmers throughout Canada, has given the study the title of "Taxation in Rural Ontario," by R. C. Hudson, Assistant Director of Economics.

SCADDING SMILES ON ARRIVAL IN HALIFAX

Smiling broadly as willing hands prepare to hoist the R.A.F. seaplane out of Halifax harbor, Alf Scadding and his wife are shown in the cabin of the plane after a thirty-five-mile trip from Moose River. The officer who piloted the seaplane is lying on top of the upper wing. A huge crane lifted the plane bodily out of the water on to the naval dock, where an ambulance was ready to take Scadding to the Victoria Hospital. Although Scadding's feet are not very good, his general condition, after eleven days in the mine, is satisfactory.—(Photo The Globe copyright)

Pierre Thot, heir to a centuries-old eel fishing concession in the Richelieu River at Iberville, Quebec. He makes an annual exclusive haul of around 2,500,000 of the streamlined anguilla anguilla, which originates far off in the Sargasso Sea and runs his weirs via the St. Lawrence River. His annual catch is worth $100,000.
